Addendum to the One Hundred and Fifty-Ninth Report of the Curricular Affairs Committee

May 16, 1979

On May 15, 1979, the Curricular Affairs Committee considered the following matter and recommends approval to the Faculty Senate:

College of Human Science and Services

Department of Home Management and Department of Human Development, Counseling and Family Studies

Recommendation: That the Department of Home Management be merged with the Department of Human Development, Counseling and Family Studies effective July 1, 1979.

Background: In the One Hundred and Forty-Seventh Report of the Curricular Affairs Committee (May 3, 1978), the CAC recommended that the Department of Home Management investigate the advisability of joining either the Department of Human Development, Counseling and Family Studies or the Department of Textiles, Clothing and Related Art. During the 1978-79 academic year a series of meetings were held with representatives of the three departments and the Structure Committee of the College of Human Science and Services. The discussions focused on the major philosophical and practical considerations inherent in each of the options. Subsequently, the Home Management Department requested that they join the Department of Human Development, Counseling and Family Studies and the Department of Human Development, Counseling and Family Studies voted unanimously to approve the merger. On April 19, 1979, the faculty of the College of Human Science and Services approved the recommendation of the Structure Committee that the departments be merged.

and that the newly merged Department of Education and Home Economics Education become the Department of Education effective July 1, 1979.
